Check those snazzy white blazers, grads! That's the "new look" on the College band under the direction of Dr. Jack Brammer. Homecoming marked the first appearance in the new blazers with blue piping, royal blue ties, and Oxford gray skirts and trousers. The Varsity J Club (campus lettermen) contributed $200 to the fund for uniforms.

The Juniata College Bulletin is published by Juniata College at Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, four times a year: January, April, July and October. Entered February 6, 1904, at Huntingdon, Pa., as second-class matter under Act of Congress of July 16, 1894.

The Talk of The Campus

Going Up!

JUNIATA has opened its 80th year with the largest enrollment since 1948.

Fall term registration figures show 668 students enrolled—an increase of eight percent over last year's total of 612. The current enrollment is the highest since 1948's total of 689.

Of the present total, 222 are listed as new students at Juniata. Fourteen are transfers from other colleges and 198 are classified as freshmen.

In spite of the use of a new residence hall for men, the college housing facilities are over-crowded as a result of a marked increase in the number of resident students. Included in this year's total are 559 resident men and women.

Approximately 90 men have been located in nearby private homes, according to the dean's office.

A steady increase in the number of veterans has helped to boost Juniata's enrollment over a five-year period from 553 to 668. Five-year opening totals show: 1951—553; 1952—596; 1953—586; 1954—612; 1955—668.

Men again outnumber women in the enrollment—402 to 266. There are 64 veterans enrolled.

Utility Building

CONSTRUCTION of a new maintenance building for the College is now under way in an area adjacent to the present heating plant.

The two-floor concrete block structure is being erected across from College Field on Oneida Street at an estimated cost of $20,000. Plans call for completion of the building this Fall, according to John T. Fike, college treasurer.

The first floor includes a general shop, paint room, tool storage, supply storage, paint storage and office. A loading dock will be constructed at the south entrance for receiving all shipments of supplies and equipment.

According to present plans, the second floor area, 80 x 40 feet, will be used for general storage.

Employees Honored

FIVE EMPLOYEES of the College have been honored for "faithful service to the college."

Upwards of 125 years of service is represented by the total employment of the two men and three women.

Harry P. Ambrose, fireman and painter, and George Parks, custodian of Science Hall, both were retired Oct. 1 after more than 25 years of service each. They received pocket watches.

In addition, three women who retired during the past year were presented with electric blankets at the recognition dinner.

They were: Mrs. Clara Itinger, who began working for the college "prior to 1921"; Mrs. Carrie Lowe, an employee since 1932; and Mrs. Ruby Parks, wife of George Parks, who began in 1932.

Twelfth Night

A NEW TWIST in sponsoring entertainment to raise money for community services was provided in Huntingdon by the College and the Kiwanis Club.

The Huntingdon Kiwanians co-operated with the college in sponsoring the Hedgerow Theater Company, widely acclaimed dramatic group from Moylan, Pa., in a one-night performance of Shakespeare's rollicking comedy, "Twelfth Night," in Oller Hall on October 11.

By mutual agreement, the Kiwanis Club contributed its share of profit from ticket sales to its public service fund for community betterment.

Shakespeare's rollicking humor at its best—the rowdiest scenes alternating with the most exquisite and poetic romance—was displayed in the Hedgerow production under the direction of Jasper Deeter.

New Scholarship

A SCHOLARSHIP fund of $2000 has been established by Mrs. Charles J. Cherry and Ronald Cherry in memory of Mr. Charles J. Cherry, formerly of Lewistown. The money will be placed in the endowment fund of the college as a memorial scholarship for young people of the Church of the Brethren of the Middle District of Pennsylvania. It will be known as the Charles J. Cherry Memorial Scholarship.

An additional $100 has been placed in the Library fund for the purchase of books in economics.

Around The Campus Today

Expanding Faculty

APPPOINTMENT of five additional members and four replacements on the faculty of the college increased the instructional staff to meet the needs of the higher enrollment for the Fall term.

Three are full-time resident additions and two are part-time. The replacements are all full-time members.

New full-time instructors are Mrs. Lula Fuller Baheri, Middlebury Center, Pa., modern languages; Gordon H. Felton, Indianola, Iowa, English; Miss Helen E. Worrall, Greenville, Pa., elementary education.

A Juniata graduate, John A. Dale '54 of Curwensville, Pa., was among the four replacements. Dale was named instructor in mathematics to replace Prof. Philip E. Bedient, on leave of absence to complete graduate work at the University of Michigan.

Other replacements are: Miss Bernice Engman, Wooster, Ohio, instructor in modern languages; the Rev. W. Robert McFadden, Elgin, Ill., instructor in Biblical studies; and Philbrook W. Smith, Caldwell, N. J., instructor in history.

Named as part-time instructors are Miss Annie M. Longenecker, former Huntingdon High School teacher, in the department of mathematics, and William R. Shaffer, project engineer for the Wald Industries in Huntingdon, in the department of physics.

Entertainment

AN ALL-COLLEGE musical production of "Brigadoon" and the Hedgerow Theater's presentation of "Twelfth Night" were highlights on the College's Fall entertainment calendar.

In addition, the college again is sponsoring a morning series of artists and lecturers for students and the public.

College talent was featured in the two-act musical, "Brigadoon," on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 11 and 12.

The first guest artist on the campus was Grant Reynard, painter and lecturer, who came for a two-day visit Oct. 3 and 4.

Other entertainment and lecture features this Fall include: Wednesday, Nov. 30, Dr. Robert T. Oliver, the Pennsylvania State University, Oller Hall, 10 a. m.; Saturday, Dec. 10, All-Class Night, Oller Hall, 8:15 p. m.; Sunday, Dec. 18, Christmas Pageant, Oller Hall, 3:30 p. m.

Wins Dress Review

AHAGERSTOWN COED at the college, Sylvia E. Bounds '58, won the Maryland 4-H dress review in August held at the University of Maryland.

Sylvia modeled a dress of Black Watch uneven plaid gingham which she made from an original pattern. The dress cost $7.29 and the accessories were $11.50. Her gloves were trimmed in matching plaid and she made earrings from buttons to cover.

Participants were judged on the basis of construction of their garments, its becomingness to the girl, their choice of fabric, the fit, and the value for money spent. The judging also was based on previous 4-H records.

Sylvia was among 58 Maryland 4-H girls taking part in the review on the university campus. She won the right to take part in the national dress review at the 4-H Congress in Chicago this Fall.

In addition to being an expert seamstress, Sylvia also is a capable cherry pie baker. She won the first prize in the cherry pie competition held during 4-H Achievement Days last summer in Maryland.

P.S.—Miss Bounds is majoring in home economics at Juniata.

Third in Contest

PRE-MINISTERIAL student, Robert D. Reader '58, Tyrone, Pa., took third place in the nationwide Intercollegiate Oratorical contest conducted by the WCTU in Long Beach, Calif., in August.

Reader, who won the state contest last spring, was selected with four others to compete at the national convention of the WCTU. He received prize money of $50 and had all expenses paid for the trip.

Winner of the contest was a coed from Oklahoma. Other contestants hailed from California, Kansas and Minnesota. All talked on "Whose Responsibility Is It?"

An Invitation

THE COLLEGE is extending an invitation to former members of the College orchestra to play in an Alumni-Student Orchestra on Saturday, June 2, 1956, on the campus. The concert, scheduled for 8:15 p. m. in Oller Hall, will be the highlight of the Commencement activities during the weekend.

Dr. Jack Brammer, director of the symphony orchestra, is working in cooperation with a committee of alumni headed by Thomas H. Knepp '31 to organize the group.

A classical symphony, a concerto, and several light compositions will probably be included in the program.

Interested alumni should direct inquiries to Dr. Jack Brammer, Juniata College.

Homecoming

JOY WENGER, a blue-eyed, black-haired junior coed from Elizabethtown, Pa., ruled over the College's traditional Homecoming Day festivities on Oct. 15. Miss Wenger was elected from among 10 nominees as the Homecoming Queen in an all-campus vote conducted by The Juniatian.

Joy's attendants were Nancy Freed '57, Telford, Pa., and Carol Jenkins '58, East Prospect, Pa.

Queen Joy is a member of Lambda Gamma, home economics club, and the Women's Athletic Association in which she is an active participant in intramural sports. She has represented her class in the May court for two years.

The queen reigned during a busy weekend as hundreds of alumni and friends were attracted to the campus by Juniata's football team as it attempted to extend the nation's second longest winning streak in a clash with Lycoming.

Weekend activities actually began Friday night when the executive committee of the Alumni Association met for dinner. Local Association officers convened later in the evening.

Saturday's program included the traditional frosh-soph encounters, the Alumni Council meeting, a buffet luncheon, and a post-game cider party in the new residence hall for men.

A feature of the entertainment Saturday night was an illustrated talk by Thomas H. Knepp '31 who has been making a study of natural life in the Poconos of Pennsylvania under a fellowship from the Ford Foundation. The Class of 1957's winning skit from last year's All-Class Night also featured the entertainment. The Homecoming Frolic climaxed the activities in Memorial Gym.

Trip to India

PRESIDENT and Mrs. Ellis are planning to leave Nov. 26 to go to India as representatives of the Church of the Brethren to survey missions in Bombay State.

During their six-week tour in Bombay, from Dec. 12 to Jan. 23, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis will be accompanied by the Rev. J. Henry Long, associate secretary of the Foreign Mission Commission of the church's headquarters staff in Elgin, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. W. Newton Long of Baltimore, Md.

En route to India, the Ellises will stop in London and then go to Kassel, Germany, to see the work of the Church of the Brethren at Kassel Haus, headquarters for rehabilitation and student exchange.

They will visit in Istanbul, Turkey, before arriving in Karachi and New Delhi. Their return trip will be through the Far East.

Here and There

MAJOR CAMPUS improvements this Fall have included installation of new and renewed steam line from the heating plant . . . extensive interior and exterior painting of campus buildings . . . four renovated bathrooms in Oneida and Brumbaugh Halls.

A new reading room has been established in the basement of the library by moving scores of documents and other books . . . The room is one of the busiest spots on campus—it's primarily a freshman reading "hide-out."

The west wing of Sherwood Lodge—the wing that remained standing after the Easter Day fire—was sold to two Huntingdon area men and was dismantled in late summer.

A recreation laboratory, first in the Eastern region for the Church of the Brethren, will be held at the College December 27-31 under the direction of Paul Weaver, Elgin, Ill. . . . Crafts, music leadership, game leadership, party planning will be featured.

Huntingdon churches have made a successful effort to have students feel welcome . . . Many freshmen were entertained in church homes for dinner after services on September 18 . . . Then the church receptions attracted many more students on September 30.

Catalog Rates

THE CATALOG of Juniata is one of six college catalogs recognized among "the nation's best" for 1955 in a recent exhibit of the American College Public Relations Association held in Chicago.

Juniata gained an honorable mention with Milwaukee-Downer College and Randolph-Macon College. First prize went to Sweet Briar College.

Grid Aides

TWO OF JUNIATA'S former football stars, Anthony Segalavich and Joseph P. Veto, both of McKees Rocks, Pa., are serving as assistant grid coaches under Bob Hicks, this season.

Segalavich (337 Olivia St., McKees Rocks), a graduate of Juniata in 1953, returned from Army service in September. A versatile three-year letterman in three different positions, Tony was selected "most outstanding back" on the 1952 squad.

Veto (1115 Woodward Ave., McKees Rocks), captain of last year's undefeated team, is recognized as one of Juniata's all-time football greats. Joe, known as "The Toe," was named to the first team tackle position on both the Little All-America and All Pennsylvania teams in addition to being selected "most outstanding lineman" on the Indians' squad.

10 SENIORS AT JUNIATA

Forming the core of the College's grid squad this season are 10 seniors. Six are considered "regulars."

The Juniata Sports Parade

Football Preview

IN SPITE OF being on the spot this season with a team that won 15 straight, Coach Bob Hicks has taken an optimistic view of Juniata's prospects for this Fall.

If you recall last year there were few persons who thought that Hicks and Company had much chance of extending 1953's undefeated record. Injuries and loss of 11 lettermen put a dimmer on the 1954 outlook. But it was Bob who maintained an optimistic view—a rare and commendable quality in the college coaching fraternity where professional pessimism is accepted.

The Indians came through for Hicks in his first year as a head football coach. They extended the winning streak to 15 in a row (longest in the state and third best in the nation) with a second straight undefeated and untied season and a new season scoring mark of 221.

"Sure, I'm optimistic," Bob admitted. On paper and on the field, the Indians are experienced, versatile and eager to carry on the winning streak. "We have spots to plug—like tackle where Joe Veto is gone—and our reserve strength is questionable, but there's no reason to take a gloomy attitude about this ball club."

Supporting Hicks' optimism are 27 returning gridgers, including 14 lettermen (12 from last year and 2 out of service). There are 10 seniors and letter-winners at every position. Only three lettermen are missing—Joe Veto, Little All-America tackle; Myron Sevvick, guard; and Fran Wampler, wingback.

Pat Tarquinio and Don Pheasant, the Indians' one-two punch at halfbacks, form the core of Juniata's starting team. Tarquinio, 170-pound tailback from McKees Rocks, was all-Pennsylvania last year, but Pheasant is

just as experienced and versatile. Both are seniors.

Rounding out the pony backfield which averages only 164 pounds are Ron Bechtel, senior blocking back from Roaring Spring, and Bob Sill, sophomore fullback from Fairless Hills, Pa.

Sill gets the nod over John Winterstein, senior from Shickshinny, because the latter was forced to report two weeks late because of hurricane damage to his home.

At ends, Juniata has two of the best in the small college ranks. Barry Drexler of Pittsburgh, was one of the East's leading pass receivers last season, and Keith Birmingham of Coraopolis, Pa., is a tough defender. Both are seniors, also.

The sixth senior in the lineup is Bill Haushalter, a pint-sized guard at 168 from McKees Rocks, Pa., who will make many an all-opponent team as the key man in Juniata's defensive patterns.

Three junior lettermen also hold positions on the "flyweight forward wall" which averages only 179 pounds per man.

They are: John Staley, Tarentum, at center; Charles Haines, Vinco, Pa., at guard; and Charles "Moon" Mullen, Altoona, at tackle.

An unheralded sophomore, Bernie McQuown of Punxsutawney, fills the spot vacated by Little All-America Joe Veto at tackle to complete the line. McQuown, a 19-year-old 190 pounder, impressed Hicks with his pre-season showing.

Two returning servicemen, Don Brumbaugh of Saxton, Pa. and Bill Waryck, Aliquippa, Pa. are available for tackle duty. Both are lettermen.

The status of two other lettermen is questionable. Winterstein may not be ready to go and Bud Douds, senior end from McKees Rocks, suffered a knee injury in practice.

CHEERLEADER FOR HICKS

Coach Bob Hicks has a new cheerleader this season. His wife, the former June Reinhard, presented a new daughter during the summer. Melissa is the Hicks' first child.

KNOX AT TYRONE

Assistant football coach last season, Charles R. (Chuck) Knox '54 is coaching in scholastic football this season as an assistant in the Tyrone, Pa., schools.

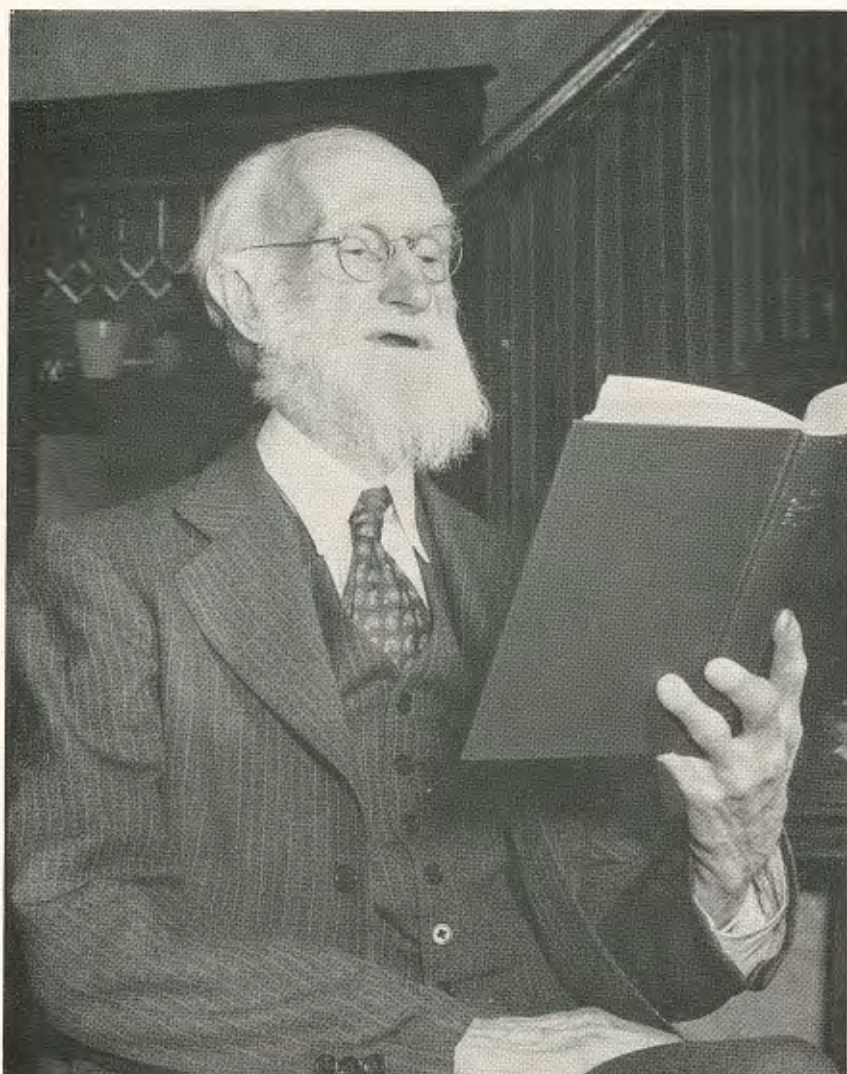

LIGHTWEIGHT INDIANS

The average weight of Juniata's probable starting lineup is only 174 pounds. The Indians' "pony backs" average 164; the line is 179.

14 LETTERMEN

The Indians have 14 lettermen to call on in football this season. Two returned from military service.

Alumni Achievement

OLDEST LIVING COLLEGE ALUMNUS Juniata's William Beery '82

Oldest Alumnus

LATEST DISTINCTION in a long line of distinctions held by Prof. William Beery '82 is that of being the oldest living college alumnus in the United States.

Confirmation of this is the American Alumni Council which last year published an article listing Prof. Beery at that time as the "third oldest." Leading the old-timers then was Miss Ella Miller of Hollins College and the Rev. Harvey Chapman of Bowdoin. Both have died during the year at age 104.

Prof. Beery was 103 last April 8.

Born in Hocking County, Ohio, in 1852, Prof. Beery came to Juniata shortly after its founding in 1876. He attended classes in the Brethren Normal School (now Juniata College) and was a member of the faculty from 1878 to 1908.

William Beery was one of three Ohio "orphans" who went to the Forge during the winter of 1878 because of the smallpox epidemic. His companions were Benjamin F. Bowser and Levi Stoner.

In the fall of the same year,

Professor J. M. Zuck assigned Mr. Beery the work in music which he undertook while pursuing his studies toward graduation.

For 13 years, Prof. Beery had charge of the choir at the Industrial reformatory. He also was superintendent of the Huntingdon Sunday School and active in county and state Sunday School work, conducting teacher-training classes for scores of students.

Another of Prof. Beery's distinctions in recent years has been the honor of singing over a nation-wide radio network from Chicago on his birthday each April. He appears as a soloist regularly at Juniata alumni dinner meetings in Chicago where he is the honorary president of the Alumni Association.

Prof. Beery is a resident of Elgin, Ill., at 915 Larkin Ave.

During his lifetime he has helped to compile hymnals and Sunday School songbooks for which he furnished many of his own compositions.

Helping the Navy

WHEN A YOUNG physics graduate student showed up at the Gun Factory of the U. S. Naval Ordnance Laboratory at Silver Spring, Md., and offered his services, the Navy hired him on the spot and readily agreed to his preference for work in de-gaussing.

Donald Q. Brumbaugh '39, now Chief of the new Systems Engineering Branch in Engineering's Advanced Weapons Division at NOL, has a distinguished record of service with the organization. He was given two Meritorious Civilian Service Awards during the war. Afterwards, he worked with the NOL Mine Division in the design and development of influence firing mechanisms.

In succeeding assignments, Mr. Brumbaugh was stationed in Korea and then in London as NOL Technical Representative in the United Kingdom where, in many cases, he represented the U. S. Navy to the British people. In addition to being a well-rounded technical man, he found it necessary to be a practitioner of good international relations, and Mr. Brumbaugh was a success.

In his present position, Mr. Brumbaugh is concerned with introducing systems engineering principles into mine development work, designing a complete weapon system where the individual components fit together and work together to produce a weapon having maximum effectiveness.

A native of Altoona, Mr. Brumbaugh and his wife, the former Mary R. Blattenberger of Bedford, live in Hyattsville, Md. at 4108 Roanoke Rd. They have three children, Tish, 13, Karen, 7, and Orson, 1½.

An article about the work of Mr. Brumbaugh was published in Report, a monthly magazine issued by the Technical Information Office of the U. S. Naval Ordnance Laboratory in Silver Spring, Md.

Culinary Artist

THE CULINARY ARTIST at work might well be the caption for the photograph of Dr. Wilfred B. Neff '25 which appeared on the cover of the Stephens College Bulletin recently.

Dr. Neff is chairman of the language department and professor of French at Stephens in Columbia, Mo.

"During the years Dr. Neff has been at Stephens he has built a reputation (from those who have been lucky enough to have been treated to share his table) as a 'host with the most'," the Bulletin reveals.

The editors chose Dr. Neff for the cover of the issue which devoted a section to "Favorite Faculty Recipes."

Incidentally, listed among the favorites was Fred Neff's Shrimp A L'Italienne. (See box)

Fred Neff's Shrimp A L'Italienne

Recipe for 4

2½ lbs. raw shrimp	2 teaspoons Oregano
½ cup olive oil	2 teaspoons salt
4 cloves garlic	8 sprigs parsley
Fat for deep frying

Peel shrimp without cooking; pat dry on paper towel. Cook oil, chopped garlic (or put in through garlic press), oregano and salt slowly for 8 minutes. Heat fat to 375 F. (or until cube of bread browns in 1 minute). Fry shrimp in hot fat for 2 minutes until shrimp pink. Start oven at 300 F. Transfer shrimp to baking dish. Pour seasoned oil sauce over shrimp. Mix well; bake 25 minutes. Before serving toss in finely chopped parsley. Serve with fluffy rice.

Far and Wide

FIVE INTERNATIONAL students from four foreign countries are attending the college this Fall among the 643 college-level students from 16 states and the District of Columbia.

Two from Korea, In Sook Choi and Hang Du Kim, and Heng-Feng Lim from Malaya, represent the Far East on the campus. Paul Amash, a junior, is from Jordan and Joseph Bozicevic is a refugee from Yugoslavia.

As usual Pennsylvania dominates the enrollment with 531 of the total students this Fall. Once again New Jersey ranks second with 65 coming from 16 different counties.

In the Pennsylvania contingent, Huntingdon County continues to rank first among the 47 counties represented. Allegheny has moved into a second place tie with Blair, each with 45 students.

Brief background on the international students, as prepared by the Public Relations Office, follows:

PAUL AMASH, a junior at Juniata, is a native of Jerusalem, Jordan. He attended the Friends Boys' School at Ramallah, Jordan, and was first in his class of 16. He enrolled at Juniata in September of 1953 and is being assisted by a college scholarship and by student senate. He is presently interested in concentration in education and foreign languages. Eventually he hopes to obtain a master's degree in romance languages and to teach in a college. During the past summer Paul worked as a psychiatric aide in the Institute of Living, Hartford, Conn. He is president of the campus International Relations Club.

IN SOOK CHOI, whose many friends call her Susie, came to America in December of 1951 from Seoul, Korea. She has been living with Dr. and Mrs. Franklin Cassel, Lititz, during her stay in the States. Her father formerly was Secretary of Public Health and Welfare in President Rhee's cabinet; he served in this capacity for three years, from 1951-54. In Sook's mother is president of the Korean Nurses' Association. Miss Choi is a delightful interpreter of Korean folk dances, and she also has in her possession 100 color slides of her native country.

JOSEPH BOZICEVIC's home was in Rakovica, Croatia, Yugoslavia—he's a refugee who four years ago came to America to live with relatives in Hermine, Pa. He entered Juniata as a freshman having advanced standing; he had taken a few courses at the University of Pittsburgh. While in Yugoslavia he attended school in Bihac and in Zagrab (capital city of Croatia). The latter, a school of economics, was taken over by Croatian nationalists during the Second World War. Before coming to Juniata, Joe was employed by Woodville State Hospital. Here at school he will probably major in history. He has a keen interest in intramural athletics.

HANG DU KIM was born in Whang Hei, Korea, and attended senior high school in Seoul. He also attended Seoul National University for a year. Coming to America in October 1954, he enrolled at Juniata where he is in pre-engineering. His brother, who journeyed to the States with Hang Du, is attending Grove City College. His father is a Korean government officer. His mother and younger sister are also at home.

HENG-FENG LIM, just plain Sam to Juniataans, was born in Negri Sembilan, Malaya, where he later attended a Methodist mission school located there. For a few months he taught English in a Chinese school. He came to the States just prior to the opening of the fall term at Juniata. Here he is majoring in the pre-medical curriculum. His brother is attending the Pennsylvania State University. While in his native country Sam was active in the affairs of his church, especially the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Guests From Holland

A GROUP OF NINE young people from Holland were guests of Juniata College for a two-week stay on the campus in late July and early August.

During their stay, the five men and four women participated in college life—attended classes, ate in the college dining hall, lived in the dormitories.

These young people were in this country under the auspices of the Experiment in International Living as one of 23 groups from eight different countries. They arrived in New York June 27 and spent a month in Cincinnati.

Last year, Juniata entertained a group of French young people traveling in the United States under the same sponsorship.
